By visiting the various categories on the main top menu of this page you can view the various wines, packages and other wine accessories available in our cellar. Should you decide to order any of our products, you need to follow the instructions of the system which along the way will ask you information in terms of your name and address, appropriate delivery method and eventually you will be asked to give your credit card details so that the order can be processed. Once you register into our system you will be given a password that you can use every time you enter into the process of placing an order. Your credit card will not be debited unless we make sure that the selected products are in stock. At each and every stage, you will be notified by the system on the status of your order.

For those of you that do not wish to give your personal details via the net, you can download/print an order form, which can be faxed to us. In either method that you choose to place your order, we can guarantee you absolute confidentiality.

For overseas shipment of wines, please click on 'Air Shipment' when asked to select from the 'Shipping Rates List'

. We will then contact you via e mail informing you of the corresponding freight charges

weight/destination

of your order. We will wait for your approval/decline and only then, your credit card will be debited accordingly
